with 7+ years of experience in designing, scaling, and delivering enterprise-grade, high-performance web applications for over 5 million users. I am an expert in the modern web stack, including React, Next.js, SvelteKit, and TypeScript, with deep knowledge of SSR, accessibility, and architectural design patterns.

My focus is on building intelligent, maintainable systems that enhance both user and developer experience. I have a proven track record of optimizing performance and leading frontend architecture, which has led to a 90% increase in customer satisfaction and a 20% boost in organic visibility.

Having recently completed an MSc in Computer Science (2024), I am now applying my knowledge to full-stack development with Python and Node.js, and am actively engaged in AI/LLM-driven projects, integrating smart agents with tools like LangChain, OpenAI, and Gemini. Open to AI-driven product teams across Europe or fully remote roles (EU Blue Card holder).
